

Surviving: Post Apocalyptic Survival (The Adventures of John Harris Book 1)

This is the 3rd edition of Surviving. It has been re-edited and with the help of retired Lt. Col. Clifford Deane, I have improved the military accuracy and jargon. This is a conservative view of what can happen in our future. Rogue government officials conspire with Iran and a major drug lord to reshape the world. Over 16 major US and many foreign cities have been nuked. The USA has lost all electronics due to several EMP blasts. The USA has reverted to lawless gangs and thugs taking over cities. The US Government is forcing most citizens into work camps for their protection. This is a post-apocalyptic story about how a hero, John Harris, leads a group of people in rebuilding the country after a coalition of rogue US Government agents, Islamic Terrorists, and Drug Cartels kill over 200 million people in the USA and Western Europe with nuclear bombs and nuclear EMP blasts. The rogue Department of Homeland Security is relocating citizens to re-education camps and killing anyone who resists. There is no electricity and food and water are running out. Looting, rioting and gang violence are the rule of the day. John's team fights for survival against very long odds, but John is a hard man for hard times. The six book series spans from 2020 to 2048. The sixth book, John Returns will be published mid summer 2016..
